WHY YOU NEED EMERGENCY TRAUMA KITS:

Would you spend a small amount to save your own child's life or any child's life for that matter? Then what is holding you back from putting these kits in every school across the country?

We promise you that if you or your friend receives a tragic phone call one day, you would have been willing to pay ANYTHING at any cost to bring that child back. Though these kits are not used for surgical intervention, the tourniquets, chest seals, and gauze in our kits will significantly reduce the mortality rate.

These simple life saving materials and interventions can be the difference between seeing your kid again, alive. Please understand Valor Med's priority is to save lives. With your help we can reduce the number of casualties in mass shootings dramatically.

COMMON Q&A's

Q: What is the learning curve for these skills being taught?

A: Our instructors have been teaching for 10 years in various parts of the world with students from all ages. There have been 8-year-old children who have attended our course who have shown complete comprehension and ability in life saving skills.

Q: How often should you practice these skills?

A: We believe you should practice these skills as often as possible. We know how perishable courses like these are, so we encourage your department to do an annual course with Valor Med. You do not know when these situations will happen, so all we can do is be prepared.

Q: Why don't we just wait for help to arrive?

A: The simple answer is there isn't time to do so. It can take up to 20 minutes for LE to show up and clear the scene. Once the scene is safe, EMS can start working the casualties. An average human can bleed out in 3-5 minutes. The people at the scene must do something fast.
